DALLAS, Tex., May 24.—An entire downtown block of business houses was damaged by fire early today. Losses were estimated at $500,000.
Officials said the fire started in a furniture store. No one was injured. Only one furniture store—the Winn Furniture Company—escaped being gutted in the block bordered by Harwood, Olive, Elm and Pacific streets.
The Harwood-Pacific Storage

Company, where in addition to other goods, 250 automobiles were destroyed, suffered the greatest loss.
Other business wiped out included the Hughes Furniture Company, two hotels, and a branch of the Singer Sewing Machine Company.
Occupants of the hotels fled in their night clothing.
The fire was believed to have started in the Hughes Furniture Co.
It is proposed in France to tax American tourists visiting Paris this year a special tourist tax of two and one-half to six francs a day.

MAL-PRACTICE AT U. C. INFIRMARY, IS WOMAN'S CHARGE

Tyranny and Inefficiency Are Laid To Authorities; Dr. Wheeler Denies.

University of California under the direction of Dr. Legge, make daily visits to the schools for examination of children. According to Councilman Heywood, the school officials have refused to place these nurses under the jurisdiction of Dr. Ernest Pape, city health officer. Heywood declared this morning that concessions had been made by the city health department if the school board would appoint Dr. Pape.

He stated that the appointment of Dr. Pape was scheduled for last Tuesday's meeting of the school board but declared that new obstacles of which he had not been apprised again rose in the way. Dr. Roy Woolsey, president of the school board, who has been the leading advocate of the school nursing unit, had previously advised his objection to Dr. Pape and had urged the appointment of a university physician as health officer.

Admitting that there has been friction at the university over the infirmary, Dr. Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president emeritus, in a statement made this afternoon, came to the defense of Dr. Legge in the administration of the campus hospital. That certain members of athletic teams have refused to be treated there because of alleged incompetency was admitted by Dr. Wheeler. He declared, however, that these differences as far as he could see were trivial and in no way reflected upon the integrity of the infirmary.

"It is true that certain athletes do not go to the infirmary for treatment and that such a condition has arisen is deplorable," said Dr. Wheeler, who admitted also that certain bills for the care of the athletes at outside hospitals were to form the basis for an investigation for the student affairs committee.

In upholding the infirmary as a whole, Dr. Wheeler said:

"To the great mass of students of the university the infirmary is a place where they are treated as if they were at home. In the years that I have been connected with the university there have been certain single cases where some students have not been as successfully treated as others. This is the exception rather than the rule.

"It is not true, moreover, that the

Rickenbacher To Hop Off On Long Trip Tomorrow

Plane Repaired, Ace Expects To Reach Washington Thursday.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASING WIRE TO TRIBUNE.
LOS ANGELES, May 24.—Captain Eddie Rickenbacher, who damaged his airplane yesterday while making a landing here on the first leg of a transcontinental flight, planned to hop off again at noon today, he said this morning. Repairs are being rushed on the plane, which was not damaged as badly as was first supposed, he said.

"I hope to make San Francisco this evening and take the air tomorrow morning for Omaha," Captain Rickenbacher said. "If all goes well I shall leave Omaha Thursday morning and reach Washington, D. C., Thursday night."

In Washington the aviator plans to attend a banquet May 28 commemorating the sailing of the transport Baltic, May 28, 1917, with the first of the American Expeditionary Forces, including himself and General Pershing.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 24.—A coast-to-coast party across the United States will be staged with the American Legion's Memorial day summons to its membership by Captain Eddie Rickenbacher, premier American ace, who is scheduled to leave San Francisco at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning for a record flight to Washington, D. C., national headquarters of the Legion announced here today. The message of the Legion's national commander will be dropped over California, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and the District of Columbia.

LECTURE FOR WOMEN.
ALAMEDA, May 24.—A free public lecture upon psycho-analysis will be given at the Adelphi club Friday afternoon by Blanche M. Holmes. The lecture will be for women only and is being given under the auspices of the Frances Willard lecture bureau. It will start at 2:30 o'clock.

If there are any charges of this character I would not believe them. For some time there has been agitation against the infirmary from one particular source, a student who was declared to have been unsuccessfully treated.

"The students are at no time denied hearings when they have bona fide statements to be heard and in the past there have been a number of hearings."

As a result of complaints reaching the university, Dr. Wheeler has been conducting an investigation into the infirmary and declares it competent.

BROTHER TELLS WHY HE DROPPED BERGDOLL NAME

Foresaw Trouble Coming, Says Charles Braun Before Congress Board.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—How he sought to get out from under the Bergdoll stigma was related to the house Bergdoll committee today by Charles A. Braun of Philadelphia, brother of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, who changed his name.

"I could foresee years ago what was coming and even then I got into this mess," said Braun. "Since then I have been on the outs with my brother, mother and Erwin Bergdoll."

Braun testified he knew nothing of the pot of gold story. General H. R. Archbold, South Pasadena; Second district, Mrs. H. C. Tardy, Oakland; Third district, Mrs. Donald R. ### Slays Wife With Axe; Then Asks to Be Killed

(By United Press)

PORTLAND, Ore., May 24.—J. F. Anderson, crazed by despondency over the ill health of his wife, killed her with an axe here this afternoon.

He summoned his son-in-law, H. B. Krum.

"She couldn't get well," he said, "so I killed her. Here's the axe. Kill me."

Krum summoned the police. Anderson had been married for over fifty years.

John H. Sherburne questioned Braun as to why he withdrew $5000 from a Philadelphia bank shortly before his brother's escape and why his mother paid him $5000 after the escape. Braun claimed his mother's check was part payment on some property. Braun said he would look up the checks.

Japanese Put Clash Blame On Americans

TOKYO, May 24.—In the absence of complete details the American embassy here had no statement to make today on the reported clash Sunday at Shanghai between American and Japanese sailors in which several are said to have been wounded. The Japanese foreign office unofficially discounted the affair. Japanese papers claim the Americans were to blame, the Asahi declaring that the evidence indicated the Americans had planned the attack in advance. According to this paper's version the affair was started by Americans dropping a rock from a restaurant window upon Japanese passing in the street below.

PRISONER DENIES DEPUTY SHERIFF'S ASSAULT CHARGE

San Francisco Man Being Held in Martinez After Shooting of Officer.

MARTINEZ, May 24.—Denial that he attacked Deputy Sheriff Frank Larkin or that he shot him at the Giant picnic grounds, Sunday, was voiced today by Alfred Roberts of San Francisco, who is being held in the county jail here on an assault charge. Larkin is at the county hospital. An X-ray picture has disclosed that the bullet, which struck him in the left leg, hit the leg bone but did not break it. A section of the ball is imbedded in the flesh.

Roberts claims that he was dancing at the time the shooting occurred and that when he was taken into custody by Leo Bunker, San Francisco detective, he had gone to his automobile with the intention of taking Larkin to the hospital.

Undersheriff William Veale is of the opinion that a fight was started to get Larkin to interfere, so men whom he had stopped from playing a dice game might get a chance to beat him.

WEIGHT INCREASED HEALTH RESTORED

Oakland Man Says Good Dentistry Is Better Than a Tonic When Teeth Are Bad

"Luther Johns, of 808 53rd street, an employee of the Peerless Machine Works, was as thin as a rail when he first came here for an examination of his teeth," said Dr. R. C. Anderson, prominent dentist with completely equipped dental offices and laboratory at 1225 Broadway. "Two of Mr. John's teeth had been giving him considerable pain and others were on the verge of pulling out in a similar manner. In extracting these teeth pus sacs and abscesses were found imbedded in the tissue near the roots, and the poison from these hidden troubles was being distributed by the tiny corpuscles of his blood through his entire system. After the teeth had been removed the missing ones were replaced with bridge work, from which time Mr. Johns gained in weight and in improved health. "The X-Ray Radiograph pictures and so greatly in diagnosing such cases as this," continued Dr. Anderson, "it is the only reliable and scientific method of knowing the exact condition of a patient's teeth. By this means we can detect at once diseased or abscessed conditions of the teeth which may lead to serious bodily disorders, such as rheumatism, loss of appetite, headaches, neuralgia, intestinal indigestion, loss of eyesight and loss of energy. "It will be well worth while to visit this office today and learn the exact condition of your teeth. We will gladly make an examination and estimate."—Advertisement

NAVAL BASE IS NOT LOST, BUT DELAYED, CAINE

Chamber of Commerce Leaders Renewed Fight For Alameda Site.

The site for the naval base was selected by the highest naval authorities in the United States in the selection of Alameda and Alameda had not been put. The land was given outright to the government by Alameda County, therefore, there was any real estate deal involved in the matter, it would be utterly ridiculous and should have been denied vigorously by the senators from California. "If by reason of the indifference and apathy of western interests and western representatives, the government should be prevented from carrying out its program, the industrial future of Alameda county will be vastly enhanced by adding more than eight square miles of the best industrial and waterfront property on San Francisco bay to industrial uses."

No more generous action could be imagined than the act of Alameda in giving this valuable land to the federal government in spite of the realization by Alameda of its immense value for industrial uses. "It seems possible that naval activities on San Francisco bay may be reduced to the third class if the people and their representatives fail to awake to the necessity of united action in support of the United States navy in its efforts to modernize its facilities to take care of the new navy on this coast. The removal of the naval training station to San Diego and the impossibility of docking capital ships at Alameda Island will result in the withdrawal of all major naval activities from San Francisco bay."

In all naval activities on the Pacific ocean, San Francisco bay is the natural rendezvous, because nature has provided the avenues of transportation directly to this great landlocked harbor, and because the bay is within striking distance of all strategic points in the Pacific. If the facilities for the care of the fleet are left inadequate in the bay, the efficiency of the navy is therefore reduced to the minimum in the Pacific."

"It is well for the citizens of the San Francisco bay region to be aware of the fact that the fleet no longer is stationed here for the reason that no facilities are provided for it. It may stay a few days for some gala occasion, but it sails away as shortly as possible to those places that can provide for it."

CALIFORNIA UNITY IS AGAIN URGED. "California faces the greatest development this nation ever has known, and a state-wide movement is now on to bring factories, tourists and home-seekers to this state. Yet this naval base is the greatest thing

Japan Protests Against Greek Seizure of Ship

(By Associated Press) TOKYO, April 24.—(Delayed).—The seizure by Greece of the steamer Helleni Maru, which was transporting from Siberia about 300 Turkish officers and 2000 soldiers, who had been prisoners of war, was made the subject of protest by the Japanese government. Japan lodged a protest with the Greek government, stating that the Japanese undertook the transportation of the war prisoners purely from the viewpoint of humanity. The Greek government replied by asking the Japanese to warn the Turkish government not to use these war prisoners for the present campaign. The foreign office then sent a telegraphic inquiry to the Turkish government asking whether that government would agree.

ever projected for the Pacific coast and no unity of action is assured. Along with the great industrial development ahead for California will come a great merchant marine. This will enter into the trade with all countries bordering on the Pacific. If our industries are to give work to the people and contribute to their nation's wealth, this trade must not be retarded. We will need the support of a powerful navy to preserve our trade rights and protect our interests in foreign lands. Unless the state of California demands its rights, this great future may be seriously imperiled. San Francisco and Northern California are now promoting a great campaign for unity. No other single enterprise of such magnitude as the naval base ever came to the Pacific coast and if the Bay Region movement is to be anything but simply a word vigorous, united action on the naval base must be had at once."

L. A. Guard Captain Dismissed For Graft

SACRAMENTO, May 24.—Adjutant General J. J. Borrie announced that Captain James C. Doorley of Los Angeles, has been relieved of command of Company L, Infantry, of the California National Guard. Doorley's dismissal follows charges brought against National Guard officers in Los Angeles which resulted in Lieutenant Colonel James McKnight resigning his post as Assistant Adjutant General. Colonel McKnight, it was charged, retained funds collected for the National Guard for his private use. Captain Doorley worked under Colonel McKnight, and it was understood that he refused to submit his resignation, when requested to do so by Adjutant General Borrie. General Borrie refused to state whether Captain Doorley would be court-martialed or brought before a board of inquiry.

Movie Manager Held For Criminal Libel

SAN FRANCISCO, May 24.—Charged with criminal libel C. A. Bird, manager of the Fox Film Company of Los Angeles, was arrested here today on a complaint sworn to by W. J. Lynch, formerly an attaché of the district attorney's office here. Lynch alleges that Bird recently wrote letters to District Attorney Brady, in which he said that Lynch had "held him up" for $250 before he could have his company take street scenes in San Francisco. Lynch claims that Tom Mix, movie star, personally subscribed to a benefit given here and that the $250 was regularly turned over to the benefit committee. He also declares that an investigation by the district attorney immediately after the benefit cleared him of any charges of extortion and that he will press libel charges against Bird. Bird was arrested in his room at the St. Francis hotel. It is said that he has admitted writing the letters to Brady.

MANY CITY HALL JOBS EXPECTED TO CHANGE HANDS

Clerk, Engineer, Police Chief, Attorney and Health Officer On List.

With the smoke of the recent city election battle cleared away and rumors among political circles in the city hall that a general shakeup of city officers will follow in its wake, neither Mayor Davis, Chairman of the Civil Service Board, Commissioners-elect Colbourne and Carter, or City Attorney Leonard Thompson, are expected to be retained in their positions, according to rumors in the city.

City Attorney Leonard Thompson, Engineer Jack City, Engineer George Matus, Building Inspector Joseph Lloyd, Health Officer Kirby Smith, City Clerk Lon Cummings, Chief of Police Linton Thompson. PHIL MAY FEEL THROUGH. Executive Secretary Ben Jones, Electric Inspector Hardy and Fire Chief Elliott Whitehead according to men in close touch with the city's political situation are expected to be retained.

Others in these departments may stay or be replaced. Some of them worked with their chiefs, others worked against their chiefs. The compilation of a who's who directory, it is admitted has been found an almost impossible task because of the intense rivalries of the "in and out" species of politics which happened at the city hall during the election.

CIVIL SERVICE CHIEF. The entire city hall however is interested as to who will get the biggest subordinate job in the building that left by Secretary Frank Colbourne of the Civil Service Board when he became commissioner. Various names have been suggested but Colburn himself says he is undecided.

I hope that the man who is chosen will bring the work forward," says Colburn. "It is not an easy job and I can only say that the man who gets it will possess the highest of qualifications."

A 10-cent whist was held last night in Musicians' hall by the members of the Fraternal Brotherhood and a jolly time was enjoyed by the members and their friends following a short business meeting. Mrs. Ida Williams was in charge.

Minister-Editor Urges U. S. Make Booze For Nation

SALT LAKE CITY, May 24.—(By the Associated Press). The Rev. Dr. Elmer L. Cochran, a congressional minister who is editor and "running" the Salt Lake Tribune, today, in an editorial, condemned new-paper, and prohibition. He contended that the prohibition law has failed to prohibit and that it is producing "the finest crop of youthful brewers and distillers that the world has ever known." He advocated that the United States government should manufacture its own liquor and dispense it to people desirous of obtaining it.

Mrs. Stillman To Sue For Absolute Divorce

NEW YORK, May 24.—A legal proceeding turning of the tables is involved in the settlement of the Stillman divorce case upon which the finishing touches were reported to be under discussion by counsel for both sides today. Immediately after the million-dollar ex-president of the National City Bank and his wife the latter will sue for an absolute divorce. It is understood, naming Mrs. Florence H. Stillman, former roof gardener woman, James A. Stillman, it is said will contest the suit merely for formality and once divorced, will marry Mrs. Leeds.

EMPLOYEES GIVE BIG YEARLY SHOW

More than a thousand employees and guests of the Union Construction Company witnessed the annual show, presented by members of the company under the direction of the works committee in the theater of the national auditorium last night. The entertainment was a pleasing mixture of comedy and music. Featuring the musical numbers of the program, which was made up of nine parts, were many duets and solos and sixteen saxophone players who specialized in "melodious, harmonious jazz" and whose syncopated rhythm was the cause for several encores. The saxophone players were led by James A. Coby.

Opening the program was a comedy skit entitled "Saturday Morning on the Job," a burlesque on work in the shipyard. The skit was produced by six employees and featured a "crack riveting team." Several good jokes with a personal appeal made a hit with the audience.

George Niven and James Lemon, dressed in kilts and full Highland regalia, presented a good Scotch act in which songs, dances and bagpipe selections were featured. Niven sang "I Lived for Ever Since She Was a Baby" and "The Wagon of the Wilt," while Lemon rendered several bagpipe selections, and the act closed with the sword dance and the highland fling by Niven.

CHILDREN TAKE PART.
Children were given an important part in the entertainment in a one-act comedy, "Home Life," featuring children of men in the yard. Dances, songs, recitations and violin and cornet solos made up this part of the program. Two Hawaiian guitar players were particularly good, and Joe McCarthy and Joe Zak in a black-face comedy skit, "As You Like Them," kept the audience in roars of laughter.

Several vocal selections, including solos, duets and choruses, comprised the remainder of the program.

The entertainment is an annual event given by employees of the Union Construction Company and was produced under the direction of the works committee for 1920-21. The committee consists of John J. Johnson, chairman; J. C. Fleet, secretary; C. E. Irvine, treasurer; and Jacob Boodt, Wallace McKaoun, C. D. Ilass, Henry Oman, C. J. Schifferle, J. A.

Pioneer Woman Is Buried In Ukiah

UKIAH, May 24.—Funeral services were held here today for Mrs. Anna Morrison Reed, 71, author, lecturer and associate of Bret Harte, Joaquin Miller and George Atherton. She died in San Francisco Sunday night after an illness of six months.

In the literary history of the state, Mrs. Reed was a picturesque figure. As a girl of 15 she came to California from Iowa in 1864 and made a lecture tour. With her younger brother she traveled horseback to many remote places, being often in danger of attack by Indians. She contributed to the magazines of the nation and to the newspapers of California, writing several books of poems and prose.

Four daughters and a son survive. The daughters are Mrs. Edward Keller, Mrs. William Shattuck, Mrs. C. Stoner and Mrs. W. E. Travis. The son is John S. Reed Jr., all of San Francisco.

IT WAS AMAZING TO HIM, SAYS SUZA

Oakland Man Gained Five Pounds On Very First Bottle of Tanlac.

"My wife says it keeps her busy cooking enough for me to eat since I took Tanlac, and it's a fact. I never had such an appetite in my life," said Frank Suza, 615 Fifty-ninth St., a worker at the Moore Ship Yards, Oakland.

"I am just making up for lost time, as I was cheated out of many a meal when I had stomach trouble. For three years I had to be careful what I ate, and even then I would suffer for hours with indigestion. I was troubled a lot with nausea, too, and was nervous and slept so little I used to dread to see night come."

"I was never so surprised in my life as I was at the way Tanlac benefited me. I have an appetite and I was able to digest anything I ate, no matter how heavy or rich it was. This was certainly a new and pleasant experience for me. I gained five pounds on the first bottle, and I am still continuing to gain."

"I eat better, sleep better and work better than I have in years, so it's natural for me to talk about Tanlac. I know in doing a good turn when I get anybody to take it, for it's got the world beat."

Tanlac is sold in Oakland by The Owl Drug Company and leading druggists.

The Easiest Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.—Advertisement.

PLAYERS RENDER JULIUS CAESAR

By LAURA BRIDE POWERS.
If ambition slew Julius Caesar, it served the town a good turn when it stimulated the Players' Club to put on Shakespeare's drama that features "The greatest Roman of them all." The Little Theater over on Bush street carried a responsive house last night to greet the earnest folk whose love of the drama has led them to big things, so artistically and honestly done as to earn its reputation of "The most interesting theater in the West."

Modern is the Players' interpretation of the tragedy, perhaps the best known of all Shakespeare's plays. None of us in our schooldays escaped the great speeches—Mark Anthony's, for instance, and so it was an artistic dare that these ardent students took last night. And let it be said in all

West Parks Are Good Auto Tours

One of the things that every motorist has in the back of his head is a plan to make a tour of the national parks of the West some time before he dies. There is a chain of parks throughout the West, including some of the most wonderful scenery in the world. Chief among the parks is Yellowstone, abounding in natural wonders.

The way for California residents to make this run is to go east to Reno, and then over the Lincoln highway to Salt Lake City, and then north to Ogden and to Pocatello, Idaho, in the park, returning by way of Idaho points, through eastern Oregon, and down the Pacific Coast and home.

BUILDING TIE-UP CONTINUES; BOTH SIDES CONFIDENT

Contractors Claim Advantage,
While Unions Say Trouble
Is Near An End.

With apparently no relief from the building lockout, which has tied up construction work in four counties and threatens to spread to other sections of the state, on slight today, leaders of both factions—the Builders' Exchange and the Building Trades Council—were claiming technical victories after the first day of work, and union officials announced their plans to organize a local supply house to provide building materials for construction to be carried on by union employees.

Leaders of the other faction denied the assertions of the union men and declared that there was practically no construction work being done today in the districts affected by the lockout.

Robert King, second vice-president of the Builders' Exchange, says the builders estimate is that between 700 and 800 employees in the Eastbay cities have been affected by the refusal of the union to accept the 7 1/2 per cent wage cut declared by the Exchange.

Labor leaders, however, have maintained that not more than 100 men or have been directly affected and there has been no effectual tie-up of building activities. They say the men immediately went to work for contractors not members of the exchange, and that construction has continued in a normal way, with the exception of that controlled by the builders' organization.

Frank McCarthy, secretary of the Building Trades Council here, said today, however, that no attempt has been made to determine how many men are actually at work and how many are idle pending the outcome of the lockout. He said that local unions are preparing to organize a material company to supply those builders not connected with the Exchange, and that the tie-up of building in at least two of the counties was 100 per cent effective. These two counties, he declared, were Alameda and San Francisco. He said that no building supplies were being moved.

CONFLICTING STATEMENTS.
P. H. McCarthy, president of the council, says the unions have received information that indicated that nothing would be accomplished by the Builders' Exchange outside of San Francisco and Alameda counties. "This lockout is just about over," said McCarthy. "Practically all of our men are working on jobs now supplied with materials by the Building Trades Council. Of course, a few jobs in the downtown section are idle, but in the residence districts work is going ahead as fast as ever. We have plenty of material and all the work the men can handle."

Industry, Labor to Be Protected, Says Harding

NEW YORK, May 24.—President Harding concluded his day in New York with an address at a dinner last night celebrating the 125th anniversary of the New York Commercial. Harding's speech in part follows:

"We never were and never will be able to maintain isolation. But our part and our place in international affairs are strikingly changed. Our rise in power and influence has imposed new responsibilities. Today our strength in the industrial, financial and commercial world, our capacity to produce, our ability to extend credit which others cannot give and which brave but unfortunate peoples sorely need—all these make it necessary that we shall adopt new commercial methods whereby to insure the fullest possible service to civilization. I bespeak the help of every organ of intelligence understanding business, to enable the nation to meet these demands.

"Our duty to the world is pressing, but we will equip ourselves best to perform helpfully if we are unwaveringly loyal to ourselves. The most important thing in America is our constitutional system. Inseparable from the foundation of a more perfect union, the constitution sought to is conducted on a scale which, though we have come to regard it as commonplace, would have made our forefathers gasp; and I prefer to assume it is honest until proven dishonest. So, I speak for the least possible measure of government interference with business, but for the largest co-operation with properly conducted business.

"In our effort at establishing industrial justice, we must see that the wage earner is placed in an economically sound position. His lowest wages must be enough for comfort, enough to make his house a home, enough to insure that the struggle for existence shall not crowd out the things truly worth existing for. On the other side, the wage earner must do justice to society. He must render services fully equal in value to the compensation he is paid.

"We are coming to understand the elements of the problem we face, and that is a long step toward solution. Give us the earnest help of such men as I see gathered here, of such organs of sound policy as we are gathered to acclaim, and we shall not be long in putting our country on the right course, ready for the signal, 'full speed ahead.'

PRIEST SHOTS ATTACKER.
DETROIT, May 24.—Andrew Kunk, 37, was shot through the lung by Rev. John Kavanishy, pastor of St. Cyril's Catholic church, yesterday, when with three other men he is alleged to have attempted to break into the rectory in Ham-tramack, a suburb. Father Kavanishy was released following a statement to the prosecuting attorney. He said his objection to a certain dance hall in the vicinity of his parish had led to threats against his life.

If you see it in The TRIBUNE tell them so.

JUST TO OURSELVES.

"Justice, like charity, must begin at home. We must be just to ourselves and to our own first of all. This is not selfish, for selfishness seeks more than a fair share. We seek only that which is rightfully our own, and then to preserve that to ourselves and our posterity.

"We will do well to keep in mind the fundamental importance of agriculture, and in every possible way insure justice to it. The farmer is entitled to all the help the government can give without injustice to others, because it is of the utmost importance that the agricultural community be contented and prosperous.

ENCOURAGE BUSINESS.

Turning to industry, our policy must be to give it every facility possible, but to keep government outside of participation in business on its own account. It is not necessary for the government to intrude itself if the business activities are better conducted through private instrumentalities, merely in order to demonstrate that the government is more powerful than anything else. The government's part in business should be no more than to insure adherence to the principles of common honesty and to establish regulations that will enable it to sail a safe course.

"There has been some tendency to regard business as dishonest until it should prove itself honest, and to regard business in business as a crime. But almost all business today

Three tables of bridge were arranged yesterday at the home of Mrs. Frank Moller, who entertained a coterie of the younger matrons and girls who are to play a prominent part in Pencil Day, June 4, for the benefit of the Ladies' Relief Society. Among the guests were the Mesdames Edward Fennell and the Misses Doris Rodolph, Laura Miller, Margaret Webster, Virginia Smith, Elizabeth Magee, Elizabeth Bliss, Flora Edwards, Hope Somersett, Hatherly Brittain, Dorothy Grissitt and Jessie Knowles.

BRETROTHAL TOLD AT TEA.

The engagement tea given by Miss Hazel Thoms Saturday afternoon, at which the hostess surprised her friends with announcement of her betrothal to Arthur Rafael Ahlgren of Berkeley, was one of the smartest affairs of the week-end, with a score of the debutante set assisting the hostess in receiving. The home was handsomely appointed in pink sweet peas in profusion. About two hundred called during the course of the afternoon, each guest receiving a betrothal card from little Miss Callie Stranahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stranahan, as they entered.

The honor guests were two of the season's brides-elect Miss Ethel Rae Woods, and Miss Margaret Mercereau.

Miss Thoms is one of the younger girls actively engaged in plans for Pencil Day, June 4, when with half a hundred of the younger girls she will take her station in one of the downtown districts.

Miss Thoms is one of the younger and Mrs. Frederick Thoms.

Thursday afternoon Miss Teresa Schmitt entertained at her home in Claremont in honor of Mrs. Thomas W. Sullivan, who with her husband is leaving soon for an extended trip to Europe. Wallace, Lloyd Larison, Alvin Spencer, and the Misses Irene Hazelton, Grace Frye.

Hidden behind mounds of flowers in the Ball Room, the Mills College String Quartet will fill the air with music while maids in rose costumes will serve breakfasts from 7 until 9:30. At 12 o'clock a number of Oakland's society matrons will entertain their friends at breakfast parties. Tables have been reserved by Mrs. John J. Valentine and Mrs. John G. Hoyt.

Oakland Policemen to Make Trips East

Tribune Quiz Turns to Data On World-Famous Structures

Ever since construction on the Tower of Babel was held up through a verbal disagreement on the part of the contractors and craftsmen and others immediately concerned, the public has been interested in all sorts of structural work. This interest manifested itself today in the queries received by The TRIBUNE's Information Department, which ranged from the Campanile to the Eiffel Tower.

One query was: "What is the loftiest structure in the world?"

The loftiest structure in the world is the Eiffel Tower in Paris. It is 984 feet high.

What is the length and height of the Brooklyn bridge?

The Brooklyn bridge is 6016 feet in length. Its towers reach 272 feet

LEARN SWIMMING, SLOGAN OF WEEK

Do you want to be in the swim? Now is your chance, for this is "Learn-to-Swim Week." There are opportunities aplenty this week, too, for all of the public baths are giving free instruction.

The Oakland Chapter of the Red Cross is the organization in back of "Learn-to-Swim Week" in this city. The movement, however, is national in scope. The purpose is to reduce the loss of life from drowning. There were 5000 deaths from drowning in the United States during the past year, and it is hoped by those sponsoring "Learn-to-Swim Week" to reduce this figure by about 4000.

The movement was inaugurated yesterday and already there has been a gratifying response on the part of those interested in learning how to swim, according to those active in carrying on the campaign.

Here is a list of the plunges where free swimming instruction is being given:

Cottage baths—Every day, 10-12 a. m.

Idora park—Every day, 11-12 a. m., 4-5 p. m.

Neptune—Every day, 10:30-12:00, 5:00-6:00.

Piedmont—Every day, excepting Saturday, 11-12, 5-6.

Y. M. C. A.—Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 4-5; Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday, 8-9 p. m.

Y. W. C. A.—Monday, Wednesday, 12-1; Tuesday, 7-8 p. m.; Thursday, Friday, 5-6; Saturday, 1:30-2:30.

DEATH BATTLE IS FOUGHT BY EAGLE AND RAM

MARYSVILLE, May 24.—Love of the young was illustrated on Table Mountain, in Butte county, when an eagle waged a finished battle with a ram, and both succumbed.

Below the topmost crag on the mountain lay the body of a huge eagle. Three hundred feet down the hillside a mountain goat was slowly dying. Three days before, sheepmen said, the eagle had seized one of the smallest of the herd's kids. Somewhere in the higher recesses of the mountain a nest with its burden resounds with the cries of eaglets for their mother and food. Below, on the grassy slopes of the foothills, the kid wandered, seeking its flock and bleating the news of the leader's death.

Four Robberies Are Reported to Police

A. T. Rose, 1839 Harrison street, reported to the police last night that his home had been entered by burglars. The entrance was gained by a pass key. The burglars took one suit of clothes valued at $50. This is the second time within two weeks that Rose's apartment has been entered by burglars. The first time they took a Gladstone bag.

Three other burglaries were reported to the police last night. M. McCauley, 1525 Linden street, had clothing valued at $150 taken from his room some time yesterday afternoon.

Frank Drisback, 1602 Sixty-fifth avenue, laid his cornet on a bench in Lakeside park and went for a short walk. When he returned the cornet was missing.

Frank Butler of the Overland Auto Company, Twenty-ninth and Broadway, reported that $12 was taken from the cash register in the main office. The burglars in order to get into the office, had to remove a small window.

Firemen Accuse Boys Who Prove Innocent

ALAMEDA, May 24.—The next time a crowd of boys and a fire engine meet on the street they are going to hesitate about following them. The two boys were playing baseball in the yard of the Porter school yesterday when their apparatus came dashing up to the corner. They ran over to see the excitement.

The engine had responded to a false alarm, however, and when the boys saw the engine they ran. The scene, Policemen Peterson and Sevin immediately seized them on suspicion of having turned in the alarm. The boys had half-hour with Fire Chief Walter Steinmetz and Police Chief William Walmuth. In the end the boys proved that neither one knew of the turning in of the alarm.

Police Take Suspect Off S. P. Mail Car

What the police believe might have been an attempted mail hold-up was frustrated early this morning when a man was arrested while attempting a mail car on a Southern Pacific train. Just as the train was pulling out of the station at First and Washington streets, Sergeant Tom O'Neill and Officer J. J. O'Connell saw the man jump out the back. Both officers drew their revolvers and ordered the man to get off the car.

At the police station he gave his name as James McKay, 827 Milton avenue. He told police inspectors that he was leaving his way to Fremont, where he expected to get work. He is being held for investigation.

PLIERS WEATHER REPORT.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—A special weather report for aviators will be sent out daily by naval radio, beginning June 1, the Navy Department announced today. Working in cooperation with the weather bureau the department will broadcast from the Arlington station at 10 a. m. a comprehensive report giving data from 41 towns and cities.

Youth Attacked Her, Tulare Woman Says

TULARE, May 24.—J. E. Mellow, 31 years old, was remanded to the county jail in Visalia today after his preliminary hearing before Justice Ward G. Rush on a charge of attacking Mrs. Eva Herod, the wife of William Herod of Tulare, while Mrs. Herod was sleeping yesterday noon. Mrs. Herod had arisen and sent her three children to Sunday school, she said, when Mellow, who lives in a house on the same lot as the Herod home, and who was accustomed to use the Herod telephone, entered her bedroom, strangled her into insensibility and attacked her.

Sixty-five thousand girls disappeared in the United States last year without leaving a trace.

Long Fast Fatal For War Duty Objector

SELMA, Ia., May 24.—Walter Oliver, son of a wealthy farmer living near here, died yesterday on the sixtieth day of his self-imposed fast.

Oliver was a conscientious objector and was sent to federal penitentiary when he refused to don a uniform at Camp Dodge. Upon his return to his home here a short time ago he became a recluse and sixty days ago entered into a fast, declaring, "I will not take food until the Lord blesses me."

Women of the State Teachers' College at Maryville, Mo., have organized an athletic association for the purpose of encouraging all kinds of sports among the girls in the school.

FUNNY FATTY AS LAUGHABLE DETECTIVE IN "THE DOLLAR A YEAR MAN" AT KINEMA, NOW

Here he is, eye-glass and all, as he looks in his frisky tale of the love affair and adventure of a sleuth, a count and a band of ghosts.

"The Dollar a Year Man," on a bill including Lon Chaney in a short story classic of the screen, "The Empty Gun," heads a bill which is drawing pleased crowds to the Kinema for the week ending Friday night.

Arbuckle is a scream as a rich laundryman of a small town who worked for Uncle Sam as a detective—and who got plots mixed with counterplots in a medley of adventure and comedy which finally terminates in the happy romance of the fat funder and the beautiful daughter of a professional sleuth.

Dorothy Dalton, back in the type of picture which made her famous in "The Flame of the Yukon," comes to the Kinema for the week starting Saturday.—Advertisement.

Healthy Mother Merry Children Happy Home

TO maintain a happy home the housewife must keep in good health. Her duties are many and various, and it seems as if every other member of the family depended very much on her. "Where is my hat?" cries the boy.

"What did you do with my coat?" asks the daughter.

"I can't find any handkerchiefs," yells the husband.

The housewife is usually the advisor and general manager of the family.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helps women to maintain a happy home by keeping them in good health.

Bloomington, Ill.—"I have taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has done me a wonderful sight of good. I was never very strong and female trouble kept me weak so that I had no interest for my housework. I had such a backache I could not cook a meal or clean up a room without racing with pain. I would rub my back with alcohol and it would ease for a few hours, but after I had taken three bottles of Vegetable Compound my aches began to gradually leave me. Now I am as strong and healthy as any woman and I give my thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for my health."—Mrs. J. A. McQuitty, 630 W. Walnut St., Bloomington, Ill.

Dante, So. Dakota.—"I would have pains and cramps every month until I could hardly stand it and could not do my work at all at that time and often had to go to bed. I went to a physician, but he did not do me much good and said I would have to have an operation. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspaper and thought I would give it a trial. Now I feel lots better and don't have to give up and go to bed, and can do all my work. You may use these facts as a testimonial, and I will answer with pleasure all letters I receive, and you may be sure I will praise your wonderful medicine."—Mrs. ARTHUR J. KANE, Box 71, Dante, South Dakota.

You can't describe a sunset on the phone

—It takes more than talk to sell the world on anything

We automobile merchants are not content with merely telling people about the cars we sell.

We can't sell motor cars from a catalogue.

We demonstrate them.

The same necessity exists in selling California to the world through our Booster Campaign.

We must demonstrate our country.

Let us carry the analogy a little further.

The most effective demonstration is not always made by the best machine.

A skillful demonstration of a poor car may make a better showing than a poor demonstration of a good car.

There's everything in being able to demonstrate to advantage the merchandise you're selling.

We've let too many prospective residents get away from us.

What's the reason?

It has been our demonstrating methods that were at fault.

What have we to show the home-seekers in the country directly tributary to Alameda County?

A hundred miles should not be considered a great distance in these days of rapid transportation.

Draw a circle of a hundred miles around the Bay Region and see what it includes.

In the center, a great land-locked bay, with almost a million dwellers around its shores. A natural center for a continent's trade as long as men go down to the sea in ships.

Southward, a country of surpassing beauty, that widens into the Santa Clara Valley.

Nothing the continent holds can compare with the beauty of the blossoming orchards of that valley. Our yearly Blossom Festival should be an event to secure nation-wide publicity, to attract tens of thousands of visitors. It could easily be made such an event.

West, in the heart of the Coast Range, what lies there?

Redwood forests, loftiest trees in the world, majestic survivors of buried ages.

Farther on, where the mountains meet the Pacific, the shining beaches of Santa Cruz hold the ancient magic of the sea.

Swing around the arc of the circle to the north.

Midway is the gate to the valleys of the San Joaquin and the Sacramento. River, rail and road lead down from them, all straight to the Bay Region as inevitably as water runs down hill.

Climb Mount Diablo and see the panorama of eight counties, and a horizon of Sierra peaks to the eastward, the Sierras that hold Yosemite and Tahoe and a thousand lesser wonders, the Sierras whose foothills are eloquent of the romance of the days of gold.

Farther to the north, fertile valleys, warm, rich, productive. Then the Coast Range again with rivers and redwoods. Tamalpais looks down upon the myriad beauties of Marin and Sonoma, and the Golden Gate, our door to all the world.

But how often does the average Bay Region dweller visit all of these things?

How many of our visitors see all of these things, or a half, or a third of them?

They are not far distant in miles, they belong to us, every one.

They lend us worth and give us right to pride.

But, stop and think, of the time, of the annoyance, of the delay, involved in visiting almost any one of them, especially upon a Sunday or a holiday.

No wonder our motor cars are shabby and neglected.

No wonder they rust out rather than wear out.

MARITIME STRIKE AGREEMENT STILL TO BE REACHED

Shipping Board Official Says There Is No Present Hope of Settlement.

A pronounced widening of the breach between the strike maritime unions and the United States Shipping Board is reported today with the hope of a settlement. The board, which is composed of representatives of the shipping industry, has been unable to reach an agreement with the unions, which are demanding a 10 percent wage increase and a reduction in the work week to 40 hours. The board has offered a 5 percent increase and a 42-hour week, but the unions have rejected this offer. The board has also refused to recognize the unions as the exclusive bargaining agent for the seamen. The unions have threatened to strike again if no agreement is reached by June 1st. The board has also threatened to ask the federal government to intervene in the dispute.

BEGIN BAY PATROL

Edward A. Erickson, agent of the seamen's union, announced the purchase of the motor launch Lillian B. to patrol the bay while the maritime controversy lasts. All ships leaving the bay ports according to Erickson, will be inspected by the patrol boat in an attempt to communicate with any union men aboard. He said that six members of his union were placed aboard the tanker Richmond last Sunday when he left for Portland. "Since May 1 twenty-seven vessels have sailed from ports in this district, five from Los Angeles, five from Portland and 17 from San Francisco," said W. K. Kincaid, traffic manager of the United States Shipping Board today. "Of this number eight ships carrying passengers. We are concentrating on passenger boats and are succeeding in moving about half of the ships under our control. We have had no trouble in getting crews for the vessels, but there has been some difficulty in getting marine engineers. There is no hope of a settlement as far as I can see under the present conditions. The unions are making a complete surrender. There have been a few hopeful signs recently. If the break comes it will come from the Atlantic seaboard."

WASHINGTON, May 24.—The steamship owners are standing pat and they held out little hope for the settlement of the maritime strike when they went into conference with Secretary of Labor Davis this afternoon. Admiral Benson, chairman of the shipping board and Secretary of Commerce Root, attended the conference which appears to be a final effort at settlement of the strike. American ship owners might have signed an agreement with the marine workers before May 1, but they can not see their way clear to enter into an agreement now, W. L. Martin, secretary of the Ship Owners Association, said today.

'CURED' VICTIM OF POISON GAS DIES

The burial of Michael Busch, a member of the famous ninety-first division of the American army, marks the passing of an Oakland hero who died a victim of gas poisoning more than a year after he had been discharged as cured. Busch enlisted immediately upon the entrance of the United States into the war and at the time of his discharge had served nearly three years. He was one of the first American soldiers to reach France. He was known by his comrades as "Bringing-back Mike," having rescued wounded fellow soldiers on no less than three occasions. After being reported as missing in action in 1918, he was located in a base hospital convalescing from shell shock. Just prior to the signing of the armistice he returned to the trenches and later was found unconscious by a German party after a gas barrage which had proved fatal to most of his comrades. Busch's funeral was marked by an impressive military service held at St. Mary's cemetery and attended by a company of infantry from the Presidio. He was a nephew of the late "Pat" Kisch, Oakland restaurateur and lived with his brother, Louis Busch, who survives him. He was born in Austria 24 years ago and came to America at the age of 16. In addition to being granted $1000 with her divorce decree Mrs. Helen Laflamme of San Francisco was also given the custody of her cat.

"Lost" Brother Sought For By Oakland Grocer

MARION MARKS, a man who is believed to have started west but never had been.

Missing Man Believed to Have Left New York On Way To This City.

Fearing that his brother Alfred Marks had met with foul play, Anthony Marks who conducts a grocery store at 153 Filbert street is up to the authorities in an effort to locate the missing man. Alfred Marks, known also as Dick Marks, served in the navy during the war and was discharged in New York in June 1919. On July 1 following he wrote to his brother in Oakland stating that he was home sick and indicating that he might soon come west. During his service in the navy he was on board a submarine chaser which was sunk off the coast of Ireland. Marks also had a number of friends in Oakland to whom he wrote indicating that he would see them soon, which fact alone no one has heard from him. He was stopping in New York at 274 West Fifty-fifth street. The New York police were requested to investigate and reported that Marks had left there early in July. Records have been checked up to ascertain if Marks again enlisted in the navy. According to navy officials no record of his re-enlistment is on file. According to the brother in Oakland Alfred was never in his correspondence and never failed to keep touch with some member of the family.

ILLEGAL USE OF STATE HIGHWAY FUNDS CHARGED

Political Deals By Board Are Alleged By Automobile Association.

Political deals through which approximately a half million dollars of highway funds, urgently needed for maintenance or budgeted to roads yet to be built under the three state bond issues, are being diverted to bridge construction and other unauthorized work by the state highway commission, according to the second charge made today by the California Automobile Association. Concerning the charges being placed before Governor Stephens the second charge read: "A large portion of the bonds issued in the open market and the commission is again diverting to the political expenditure of offering premiums in the way of an unauthorized work. As an example, the highway commission disposed of a block of these bonds to rich Los Angeles county. It is now paying a premium to that county of $2,019,900 for bridge construction, no work provided for in the bond issue. Another county, which has been authorized to build bridges, is forced to build class A bridges at its own expense. Other political phrases have brought to total to receive $1,000,000."

PIEDMONT PLANS OUTFALL SEWER

Commissioner Edwards of the street department today received from City Clerk Weare C. Little of Piedmont notice that the Piedmont city council had directed its engineer to prepare plans and proceed with an outfall sewer through the Lakeside district in expectation of a future bond election to raise money for it. The Piedmont action is asserted to give the way to solving a vexed problem which has irritated both Oakland and Piedmont. The latter city has been frequently charged with being using the Oakland sewers but the growth of both cities has been so great that the Oakland sewer down the Lakeside district cannot longer serve both municipalities. Floods and back-fills were the rule during the recent heavy rains. Piedmont's action, says Edwards, makes it clear that Piedmont assumes its rightful part of the burden. During the rainy seasons many householders whose plumbing is connected with the sanitary sewer have complained bitterly of high water backed up the drainage and clogged things. We hope the situation can now be relieved. The matter, it is explained, now rests upon the success or failure of the Piedmont bond issue.

LIVING PRICES UNDER PROBE OF WOMEN'S LEAGUE

Alameda Housewives Meet And Discuss Plans For Investigation.

Retail distributing organizations failed to send representatives to the mass meeting called by the Alameda County Division of the State Housewives League in the Theatre of Education rooms at the city hall last night. It was decided by the members of the league to begin investigations concerning alleged high prices and to ask the aid of District Attorney Ezra Decoto. Included also in the decision adopted after introduction of a resolution by Mrs. Susan Wiess of the Alameda Housewives League was a declaration that in the future the food producers' associations will be the object of investigations before invitations are extended to attend a meeting of the league. Letters requesting that representatives of the meat, milk, bakery and other large retail distributing organizations be present at the meeting were sent out by Mrs. M. T. Cleverdon, president of the State organization of the Housewives League.

INVESTIGATION DECLINED

When the meeting was called to order last night none of the representatives was present. Of the large number of letters sent out only two answers were received, one from J. B. Muir, secretary of the Alameda County Meat Dealers Association stating that the association executive officers had other engagements and would be out of town at the time the meeting was to be held. The second communication was received from J. W. Havens, attorney for the Bakery Traders Association in which he declared that the organization for several months had been disorganized and could send no official representative. Milk producers and other retailers made no answer. Decision to consult Decoto was reached after a resolution had been introduced by Mrs. Susan Wiess of the Alameda Housewives League to the effect that the District Attorney should Decoto be unable to handle the situation personally, Mrs. Cleverdon announced he will be called upon to assign Mrs. Frances Wilson Kidd to the task.

SITUATION TOLD

At the close of the meeting a letter was dispatched to President Warren Harding telling of the food situation here and another to Attorney General Dougherty, asking aid concerning the situation as it rests today. Mrs. Cleverdon declared. Retail prices are still high. Sugar has dropped almost to nothing yet and is so high the ordinary person cannot afford to buy it. We are not trying to discourage buying. On the contrary, we are attempting to show the retailers that upon themselves rests the question of whether they will drop in prices and be extended the good will of the buyer."

LETTER TRAPS SUSPECT

During the preliminary examination of Oscar Bigelow, colored, it developed today that his arrest was caused through a letter addressed to his mother which he dropped on the floor near the San Joaquin county charging him with forgery was brought into court and Judge Church refused to release the prisoner. Somerville had been the county jail three months. This morning he had planned to secure his freedom as the probation officer's report was favorable. When the warrant from Siskiyew was produced Judge Church remanded the man to the county jail.

Landis Weeps in Sentencing Ex-Soldiers

(By United Press)
CHICAGO, May 24.—Judge K. M. Landis wept today as he sentenced three former soldiers to Leavenworth penitentiary for stealing goods from an interstate shipment. "I guess I have been on the bench too long—I haven't much heart for this sort of thing," the judge sobbed. Michael Healy, one of the three, presented a citation for bribery for carrying ammunition to front line trenches through a German barge. The judge gave the three men a year and a day each and promised to obtain a job for each of them after they served their sentences—if they would promise to go straight.

Man Who Attempted Suicide Recovering

Peter Sisselaar, son of a wealthy Holland manufacturer is recovering in St. Anthony's hospital from the seven wounds he inflicted near his heart when he attempted to commit suicide last Friday in a poolroom at 2603 Grove street. The first report at the Emergency hospital said that Sisselaar had been playing cards all afternoon with Charles Edward Larson, who resides at 447 Grove street. When the police investigated this angle of the case the information proved to be incorrect. According to the report provided by the police, Sisselaar resides at the home of Larson. Larson stated to the police that he knew of no reason why Sisselaar should attempt to take his life and that he was at work all day Friday.

Berkeley Mayorality Contest Up May 31

The battle to seat in the Berkeley mayorality contest, Albert Leasure in place of the present mayor, Louis Bartlett, who defeated Leasure by only 42 votes will take place before five Superior Court judges May 31. President Judge T. W. Harris today set that date for the hearing. The next term of office for the Berkeley mayorality begins July 1. Judge Harris said the date set for the hearing would be in plenty of time as the five courts each examining a portion of the ballots will be able to conclude the count in a few hours. An order for a special session of the court on the date named in the law provides that not less than ten nor more than twenty days after such a contest is filed the court must hold a hearing for the purpose of determining the reason for today's consideration and continuance of the matter. The contest was filed on behalf of Leasure by H. A. Johnson.

Two Youths Accused Of Attack on Girls

BACK TO JAIL

Just as Don H. Somerville was about to be released on probation on the recommendation of Probation Officer Leonard Compton, a warrant from Siskiyew county charging him with forgery was brought into court and Judge Church refused to release the prisoner. Somerville had been the county jail three months. This morning he had planned to secure his freedom as the probation officer's report was favorable. When the warrant from Siskiyew was produced Judge Church remanded the man to the county jail.

RECOGNITION OF MEXICO AWAITS NEW ASSURANCE

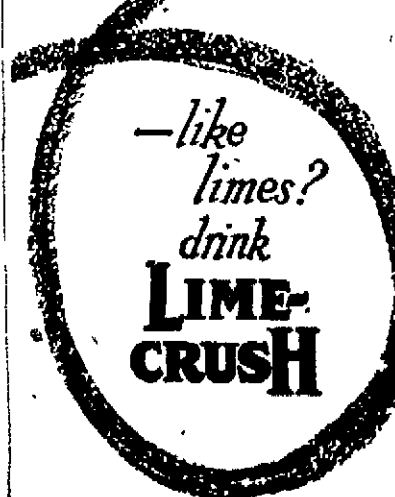

Speedy Settlement of Claims of Americans One of U. S. Terms.

By A. L. BRADFORD, United Press Staff Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, May 24.—The last obstacle to American recognition of the present Mexican government has been removed, it was believed here today. The United States has been insistent that any recognition must hinge upon definite assurances that American lives and property in Mexico would be adequately protected. President Obregon "has been equally insistent that he cannot sign a set of written guarantees because of the impression of 'coercion' that would result in this country."

The communication from Secretary Hughes, which George T. Sumner, merlin, charge d'affaires, is bearing to Mexico City however was authoritatively stated today to contain merely the suggestion that certain steps should be taken by the Mexican government preliminary to recognition. These may be adopted by Mexico without any written promise. Foremost among these stipulations is that Mexico shall give a non-retroactive interpretation to Article 27 of the Carranza constitution, which provides for government ownership of all sub-soils so as to eliminate possible confiscation of American property. Further, it is suggested that steps shall be taken for a speedy settlement of the large claims of American citizens for losses sustained through Mexican revolutions. The note declared that the United States is anxious to recognize the Mexican government—under the conditions stipulated. It was stated that if Obregon makes a satisfactory answer, recognition probably will be extended almost immediately.

OBREGON MEETS SITUATION THAT MENACED NATION

MEXICO CITY, May 24.—President Obregon apparently has met a difficult situation which last week threatened to disrupt the Mexican congress. In replying to a memorial sent to him by members of the Liberal-Constitutionalist party his friends declare he has enunciated a policy which is satisfactory to that organization, but which does not incur the enmity of the Socialists and the less extreme radical elements. In substance, his policy is that all guilty persons shall be punished, but that in matters strictly within the province of his administration the president must not be subject to interference from political parties. Fourteen foreigners have been deported within the past week and it is declared by supporters of President Obregon that this is indicative of his desire to eliminate the ultra-radicals and to allow the Bolsheviki no privileges beyond their legal rights.

BERKELEY MAYOR SEES WATER FOR EASTBAY CITIES

Way Opened To Project By Governor's Signing of Utilities Bill

Declaring that with the signing of the public utilities district bill by the governor, the last obstacle in the way of the formation of a water district in the Eastbay district has been removed, Mayor Louis Bartlett of Berkeley said today that immediate steps would be taken to act under the new law.

"With the new act effective," said Mayor Bartlett, "nothing appears so certain as that the city of Berkeley and the city of Oakland are maintaining the goal for which the cities of the Eastbay have been striving for the last two years, namely, the establishment of a public utility water district."

CONFERENCE PLANNED.

"Within the immediate future," he said, "the representatives of the forces will be brought together at a conference at which the subject will be discussed which the matter can be placed to a vote of the people by next fall.

"The new utilities act is especially arranged to avoid all legal entanglements."

The Berkeley mayor sees in the utilities district plan the solution of the Eastbay water problems, and in the bill, which is now before the legislature, the district, indicates his lack of faith in the city and county consoli-

FIVE DISTRICTS.

"The Eastbay section would be divided into five districts with a representative on a board of directors from each district. An executive similar in position to a city manager is then provided to have complete jurisdiction over the entire city."

"It has long been apparent that unless a more adequate supply of water is forthcoming in the Eastbay the prosperity of the city and the surrounding industrial lines will be seriously impaired. This was indicated in Berkeley time and again when prospective buyers of the city were deterred or eluded because of insufficient water supply."

BANKERS TO MEET.

NAVAL BASE ITEM LOST.

By a vote of forty to thirty the United States Senate yesterday struck out of the naval appropriation bill the item of $1,500,000 for the initial work on the proposed Pacific Fleet base at Alameda. This will mean, unless by some tactics not now to be foreseen reconsideration of the item is had, that the work of beginning the base will be postponed for at least a year.

The industrial progress of this district is so well established that the delay of the naval base will have no substantial effect upon the interests of this locality, but the defense system of the United States will be seriously impaired until such a base as is proposed by the naval experts for Alameda is provided.

Defeat of this appropriation was made possible by a combination of circumstances. Senator Borah of Idaho, the interior State where coast defenses do not appeal as being necessary, has conducted a campaign of obstruction and filibustering against all new items in the defense measures. He was supported by a small group of interior Senators of "progressive" leanings. With Borah and his group of objectors, Southern Democrats, peeved that no provision had been included in the bill for a new dry dock at Charleston, S. C., joined their opposition and the attack of the whole combination was centered on the Alameda item.

In connection with these unfavorable circumstances it to be considered also the fact that so far as the record shows neither of the California Senators was heard pleading in support of the item. Just why this State's representatives in the upper chamber did not realize the vital importance of establishing adequate facilities for the maintenance and operation in these waters of the Pacific Fleet remains yet to be disclosed. It is possible, though not yet confirmed, that the California Senators were too much concerned with the larger limelight thrown by national issues to give appropriate attention to California's interests.

The appropriation to enable the beginning of construction on the new naval base was meritorious in every respect. Assignment to this ocean of the Pacific Fleet, which is composed of approximately one-half the tonnage of the navy, and of a tonnage equivalent to the total tonnage of the navy before the war, has made the provision of additional accommodations absolutely necessary. The last thing which Admiral Rudman, commander-in-chief of the fleet, did before his departure yesterday for Washington was vigorously to recommend the immediate provision of new base facilities at Alameda.

It is essential to the safety of America and as a deterrent to war in the Pacific area that the Pacific Fleet be maintained, not only at its present strength, but that it be augmented with other and powerful battleships which will require base, anchorage and docking facilities not now available anywhere on the Pacific Coast. Congress and the government are fully aware of the fact that the fleet must, for the national safety, be maintained in the Pacific. Why does Congress falter when it faces the necessity of providing the shore facilities for the fleet?

There are twelve naval stations on the Atlantic Coast. With Mare Island and Bremerton worked to the limit of their capacity, the establishment of an additional base for the capital ships of the Pacific fleet is absolutely necessary if the fleet is to remain on this side of the continent.

Have we returned to that pathetic condition in the Congress that was exhibited early in 1917, when a little group of wilful men and visionaries, combined with the little provincials of the South, can compel dangerous neglect of essential national safeguards? The same kind of tactics they are now pursuing made necessary the war of 1917 and all its terrific cost.

ADVERSE TRADE BALANCE.

At the end of the month of April, the United States recorded its first adverse balance in foreign trade since the beginning of 1915. It was not a large balance and a part of it was due to the heavy shipments of gold from Europe, but it marked the reaching of that point in foreign trade of which there has been frequent warning.

Exports of goods in April amounted to $340,000,000, while the imports of goods amounted to $255,000,000 and of gold to $92,000,000, making a balance against this country of $7,000,000. This was the apparent balance. The actual deficit probably was much larger than indicated. For the invisible balance, which is made up of services to trade, such as shipping charges and marine insurance, is again largely in favor of Europe. England alone earning about $200,000,000 monthly through these accommodations.

It is also noteworthy that the physical volume of our exports are now below the prewar volume. Unfortunately it is not possible accurately to determine this fact from the way the Department of Commerce returns are kept, but estimates based on the returns of other countries clearly indicates that for April the volume of business was about the same as for the monthly average for 1913.

UTILITY ACT APPROVED.

Governor Stephens yesterday approved the legislative act amending the public utility law as specially desired for application to the Eastbay district. Some very substantial changes are made in the law as it now exists, which, it is confidently believed, will work for a more efficient and economical utility district organization.

In the first place the board of trustees for the utility district are reduced in number and are to serve without compensation. This will reduce the administrative costs to the items necessary to obtain expert service. Secondly, the number of elections necessary to form a district is reduced, each municipal unit in the territory proposed to be included may decide for itself whether or not it shall be included, and the inclusion of territory and cities in separate counties in the utility district is possible.

This act just approved by the Governor is one of the most important laws relating to the Eastbay district passed by the recent legislature. It is particularly needed at this time as an instrumentality for the solution of the water problem of the Eastbay cities. This district must decide in the very near future what its policy shall be regarding an additional water supply, whether the district, that is, the several municipalities in cooperation, shall take over the task of providing adequate water for the future growth or whether this vital matter will be left in the hands of private interests. The water resources at present under control of the water utility and developed are sufficient to meet the needs of the district for not more than ten years. There must be a new supply.

The cities on the continental side of the bay cannot fail to realize the importance of settling this question right. If they decide to go ahead with a new project of water supply, the public utility law just approved constitutes the necessary instrument. It will enable not only cooperation of the Alameda county cities, but also will permit Richmond and other Contra Costa county cities to join in the project, and thus provide for a wider distribution of the expense.

The League of Nations has submitted a plan of financial reform to Austria, with the implied recommendation that that country attempt to carry it out. Austria needs financial reform acutely. Perhaps there is no other country in the world that needs it so much. If therefore may be in a condition of mind that will induce it to accept the League's program. If it does and the plan proves successful, then the League of Nations can try it on itself with great profit. It may not be exactly fair to try the scheme on Austria first, but it may be best for the League.

OVERALLS.

A big overalls manufactory failed the other day. We don't recall just where it was, except that it was in the United States, and we are sure we heard nothing as to cause or causes bringing on the financial disaster. Nevertheless the thing is one that might almost be adopted as text for a church sermon at the present national juncture.

While we are all commenting on the silk shirt craze and other manifestations of a desire for fine feathers and for the symbols of ease and luxury, how many of us gave thought to the fact that this craze was the negation of overalls, the spurning of what blue denim and khaki stand for? How many of us stopped to think that the lowered efficiency of labor was in large measure due to a spirit of revolt against hard, earnest work, selling and scabbing work, work such as has been necessary to build up our nation and such as will have to be done again and always if decadence is not to follow?

To a certain extent overalls themselves may be viewed as a first form of labor decadence, as a sort of camouflage to cover the real man beneath. They might be taken as indicating the temporariness and undesirability of labor, something to be put off hurriedly so that little time will be lost in passing from work to the real purposes of life—amusement!

In olden times, when the "dignity of labor" meant much more than now, when the line of demarcation between artisan and artist was a hair's breadth, there was no such thing as overalls. There was a laborer's costume suited to his employment and usually picturesque because of its very appropriateness. But it was one to wear as an honor, not to be put off hurriedly as a badge of servitude by those desiring only of losing their identity as workers in the hope of being mistaken for leaders or social parasites.

This view the oneness of overalls may well have helped on, for it destroys the remaining pride in a clerical by seeming to group in one class men of the widest separated interests. Machinery, too, has turned the trick—perhaps that more than anything else—for the artisan, once in very fact an artisan, has now become little more than hostler to an oil consuming monster. Labor performs a fraction of a task and knows none of the emotions of complete creation. Therefore the submission to the overalls while "on the job" and the eagerness to shed them quickly when the whistle has blown.

And there is yet one more consideration. The overalls as a uniform of labor tends to join the most disparate elements into a dangerous conglomerate. New Orleans Times and Picayune.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

A church bell is an advertisement to tell people about the services. A business man who does not advertise attracts about as much attention as a church bell would without a clapper.—Sawelle Tribune.

It is true that Yolo county fruit-growers, in some ways, are hard hit by the frost, but the county is still better off than most other counties of the state. And our fruit-growers have a capacity for quick recovery. The tremendous profits of the two preceding years make it comparatively easy to bear the losses of 1921.—Woodland Democrat.

An example of hauling coal to Newcastle is found in the trip of a motor truck loaded with strawberries which comes to Chico each day from Palermo, which, as most of us know, is six miles east of Oroville. The berries meet ready sale with local merchants, who declare that there are not enough strawberries grown around Chico to supply the demand. The next thing we know we will be importing prunes.—Chico Record.

If the Pacific fleet were removed permanently to the Atlantic, the nation would be protected as badly as a house would be badly protected against burglars if its back door were locked but its front door left unlocked. The Pacific Coast is the front door of the nation, so far as danger of armed attack is concerned. It would be egregious folly to leave this front door unlocked and insufficiently defended.—Grass Valley Union.

NEARLY OUT OF THE WOODS.

THE CAMPAGNA

Reclamation projects are under way for making the famous Roman Campagna what it was before the fall of the Roman empire, thus restoring to Italy a region which once was dotted with busy villages and luxuriant fruit trees, newspaper dispatches state.

This now dreary plain, of which only one-tenth has for hundreds of generations been turned by the plowshare, is the burial place of scores of Etruscan cities. Its desolate and fever-laden atmosphere has for centuries given to Rome a splendid isolation and filled the sleep of the summer traveler to the city with malaria-haunted dreams, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

"The Campagna di Roma, that district of Italy which so nearly corresponds to ancient Latium, lies along the west coast of the country from Civitavecchia to Astura and the Pontine Marshes, as far inland as the Alban and Sabine hills, where Horace wished for a little farm that he might enjoy the golden mean of life. Rome lies near its center. In Horace's day it was cultivated and dotted with towns and villas. Today the ruins of aqueducts, once a mark for the Campagna's pride, solemnly speak of their past grandeur.

"It is almost improper to speak of the region as a plain. It is rather a volcanic sea, extending on both sides of the Tiber. Once the Mediterranean probably pushed far up the valley and most of the area resembles an archipelago. Then evidently there was a great volcanic upheaval, the earth rose near the coast, the sea was pushed back, the streams from the Alban mountains found no outlet, and the marshy, stagnant waters have swallowed cities, leaving no trace of them—merely their masonry and their names. Tufa and ashes partially filled up the water, creating a marsh, which became the home of the elephant at the stage.

"Outside of Rome this expanse has lain for centuries, breathing its fever-laden breath upon the city. It has seemed, almost, to await to swallow the Eternal City itself. Now Italy, realizing that this vast area can be made to yield excellent fruit and grains and thus enable her to hold her place as the commercial mistress of the Mediterranean, has drained and irrigated parts of it, and it is hoped that soon the whole of the Campagna will be under cultivation.

"In some places the undeveloped area consists of unproductive grazing lands, to which in the autumn herdsmen drive their cattle and horses down from the mountains to graze. In others there are shaggy grass-grown ditches and deep holes made by searches for catacombs. Occasionally a farmhouse will break the big expanse of loneliness. The homes, which are often enough picturesque, little nests, are wretched and dirty. Malaria has chilled the bones of the inhabitants.

"The region is moderately cold in winter and there are occasional snow storms. In the summer the oppressive heat parches the soil in spots and produces several inches of dust. The careful guide-book warns the traveler that evenings on the Campagna are not in keeping with the day. The sun seems to drop suddenly out of the sky, and a clammy, penetrating cold wells up.

"Perhaps it is the atmosphere of the surrounding campagna which gives Rome part of its lure. Its faint whispers, its strange smells, and the mist that rises over it speak of the remoteness with which it has swallowed everything that ventured to live in it.

about YOUR HEALTH

What Locomotor Ataxia Is; Its Cause and Treatment

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D., Commissioner of Health, New York City.

One of the saddest diseases with which we have to deal is "locomotor ataxia" or "tabes dorsalis." The damaging effects have so far progressed before the disease is recognized that it is too late completely to ward off its dangers and complications.

We hope and believe that science will accomplish much in the future and that the hopelessness of this condition will be less pronounced as time passes. Much indeed has been done in the last decade to cope with this disease. Some of the most serious symptoms are occasionally arrested and some of the inevitable complications of olden times are checked.

The most important cause for this disease is syphilis. It is not fair to say there is no other cause, but it must be admitted the cases from other causes are few and far between.

There are so many ways for this condition to be ushered in there is no wonder it is not readily recognized at the start.

"Lightning pains" are among the earliest of the symptoms. There are cutting, stabbing, lacerating sharp pains, here, there, everywhere. They jump from one place to another. They may be in the legs or in the body. They are extremely brief, like a pin prick, or a dagger thrust, but exceedingly unpleasant.

Numbness or tingling of the feet may be noted. Another early symptom is a "girldie sensation," as if there were a tight band about the waist.

Certain eye symptoms are very characteristic. An early one is double vision. This is due to temporary paralysis of one of the external muscles of the eye, interfering with normal vision. With the lack of team work, one eye gets out of alignment, and double vision results.

Sometimes there is drooping of the upper lid of one or both eyes. There may be what is called the "Argyll Robertson" pupil. The normal reaction to light and shade is gone and the pupil remains fixed, except when the eye is changed from near to far vision or vice versa.

The important and distressing eye symptom, however, is the atrophy or death of the optic nerve. This takes place in 10 per cent of the cases and gradually leads to total blindness.

All these are the initial symptoms of "tabes." The real trouble begins with the "ataxia" or loss of muscular control. The patient cannot start off easily when he tries to walk. He cannot stand with his eyes shut. It is difficult to go down stairs. In walking the feet are lifted high and brought down heel first. The legs are spread apart, and a cane is necessary to navigation.

The victim should continue his affairs. He is better off to do so than to abandon himself to the miseries of idleness and to brooding over his troubles. He may look forward to many years of usefulness in any career.

MINISTER PLEADS FOR SON HELD AS HIGHWAY ROBBER

Probation Decision Delayed
Until Asylum Manager
Submits Testimony.

Superior Judge L. S. Church today returned the 22-year-old high school senior, Paul Burlingame, to the county jail until Thursday afternoon, despite the pleas of the boy's aged father, the Rev. George Burlingame of Berkeley, that the youth be freed and allowed to join the U. S. army.

Rev. Burlingame promised Judge Church not only to enter the boy in the army, but to give him psycho-pathic treatment for his extreme nervousness. Probation Officer Leonard Compton, Chief of Police August Vollmer and Dr. J. W. Robertson expressed the opinion that the boy should go to prison.

A subpoena has been issued for Dr. Leonard Stocking of the Agnew state insane asylum, who had Burlingame in charge for some time.

Burlingame pleaded guilty to holding up a Berkeley street car on Duclid avenue December 8, 1920.

Freight Looting Here Is Profession, Claim

Seventeen men have been killed, twenty injured and 39,515 trespassers removed from the Southern Pacific Company's premises in California, according to a statement made by company officials in urging that Jas. Carter, 40-year-old freight car burglar, be denied probation by Superior Judge L. S. Church today.

Carter's case was referred to the juvenile court after Probation Officer Leonard Compton had recommended that probation be denied.

In protesting against granting Carter probation, the Southern Pacific Company filed a letter with Compton declaring that the robbing of cars has become a profession in Alameda county and that many men are now making their living by stealing valuables from freight cars on sidings.

Carter was caught March 31 while robbing a car at Newark. He had packed up a large amount of ladies' wear when he was arrested.

Veteran Sailor of 2½ Years on Fifth Voyage Across Pacific

Although but two years old this hardy salt, ROBERT NORTON JR., has already crossed the Pacific four times, and embarked on his fifth voyage yesterday. The TRIBUNE camera man snapped him and his mother, MRS. ROBERT NORTON, shortly before the Creole State pulled away from the San Francisco pier.

ALAMEDA, May 24.—When the Pacific Mail liner Creole State cleared San Francisco harbor yesterday for the Orient, Robert Norton Jr., hardy seafaring "man" of 2½ years, began his fifth transpacific voyage. With his mother, Mrs. Robert Norton, of 2132 Lincoln avenue, Alameda, he sailed for Manila, where his father is in business.

The hardships of a life on the ocean wave have long since ceased to worry Robert, for during his brief span of life he has spent nearly as much time on water as he has on land. Just as the steamer pulled away from the wharf he waved a nonchalant "goodby" to his grandmother, Mrs. A. Norton, and marched up the main deck to study the interesting phases of navigation.

VERDICT OF $250 GIVEN FOR $2000 JEWELS STOLEN

Case of Woman Against Hotel
Proprietor Goes To Higher Court.

The case of Mrs. Hattie Springer seeking damages for the theft of $2015 worth of jewelry, including diamonds, sapphires, pearls, gold and platinum, from the Hotel Touraine was taken on appeal from the court of Judge Harry W. Puffer today to that of Superior Judge George Simms.

Judge Puffer gave her judgment for $250 and costs on the showing that the police had warned the proprietor of the hotel, the porter, Frank Mettich, who afterwards was convicted of the theft. The reason only $250 was allowed was that the law limits the liability of an innkeeper to that amount.

The appeal was taken by the defendant.

Police Believe Dead Man To Be Manuel Alonzo, Who Recently Sold Home.

The police today identified the body of the man found hanging from a tree in the Realty Syndicate property at the end of Maple avenue as Manuel Alonzo, who formerly resided at 2419 Monticello avenue.

Identification was made through a card of C. M. Jones 5156 Fairfax avenue, a real estate operator. On the card was written the name of Mrs. Thomas Carolyn. Police inspectors Robert Tracey and Bob Goodwin who worked on the case were told by Jones that Alonzo had sold his home to Mrs. Carolyn Mrs. Carolyn is positive that the man is Alonzo.

She told the police that Alonzo was a married man and had three children. On April 4 his wife and family left for from Springs, Alberta, Canada. After he closed his business in this city he was to visit brother in Havana and join his family in Canada. The police have sent a telegram to Mrs. Alonzo.

Tutors Go Payless Four Days to Insure Full Term

BERKELEY, May 24.—Four teachers of service will be denied by the school authorities of Berkeley a full term of pay because of a strike by the teachers. The school authorities have decided to pay the teachers for the first four days of the term, but to deny them pay for the remainder of the term because they failed to report for duty on the first day of the term.

The action of the school authorities will be a test case for the teachers' union, which is fighting for a 10 percent increase in pay. The union claims that the school authorities are trying to force the teachers to work without pay for the remainder of the term.

The teachers' union has filed a suit in the superior court to force the school authorities to pay the teachers for the full term. The union claims that the school authorities are trying to force the teachers to work without pay for the remainder of the term.

THEFT OF SKETCH LEADS TO $5000 INSURANCE SUIT

Berkeley Man Begins Action Against Company For Policy Payment.

STRAINS COVERED from Lloyd's Insurance Company of London and its representatives here, alleged to be due because of the theft of a picture insured for that amount, was filed today in the superior court by Lawrence Frazz of Berkeley.

Frazz charges that on October 30 last he paid a premium of $75 to insure for $5000 a picture and ink screen by John A. Crocker of Amsterdam, Holland, which was located at 2172 Shattuck avenue, Berkeley. A burglar broke into the place two weeks later and carried away the picture. Frazz claims that the company has refused to honor the policy.

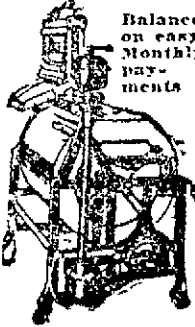

The complaint names, in addition to the company's agents, a long list of persons who comprise the company, and who are asked to contribute their share of the amount insured.

Odd Bits of Humor

"The President-elect ought to think pretty well of me." "Did you ever do anything for him?" "Naw, but I ain't bothering him with any advice."

"How did you like my film play?" "Good comedy," said the professional humorist. "Good work." "But you didn't laugh." "A brother artisan never laughs at good work."

"Who don't you get rid of that mule?" asked one Virginia dorky of another. "Well, yo' see, Jim," replied the other. "I hates to give in. Et I was to trade dat mule off he'd regard it as a personal victory. He's been tryin' to de last six weeks to get rid of me."

Holding Husband

by Adele Garrison

THE WAY MOTHER GRAHAM AND MADGE TOOK DICKY'S JOKE

"Just about what the flibbertigibbet would think up," Mother Graham commented dryly, then energetically. "Do you want any help in dressing?"

"No, indeed," I answered promptly. "All I have to do, you know, is to slip on my blouse and skirt again."

"I know," she said grimly, but with an unwilling smile quivering the corners of her mouth. "If you're sure you're all right, I'll go back to Richard Second. Poor child, he isn't getting the care of a good dog these days."

MOTHER GRAHAM MOLIFIED

I was gratified that my stooping position enabled me to hide the snifle I couldn't for the life of me suppress. My mother-in-law's querulous tone told me she was deeply offended because I hadn't been relegated a bit to the background by my illness and the intrusion of visitors. Secure in the knowledge that she was being really cured for good by his devoted grandmother, I had made only cursory inquiries as to his welfare—indeed, had had but slight opportunity to do more. I reflected on the crowded hours that had followed our arrival in Mrs. Lukens' house, could see that she resented this and, on the other hand, I reflected whimsically, if I had appeared extremely anxious about the child she would have taken it as a direct reflection upon her ability and willingness to cure properly for my small son.

I tried to be diplomatic and looked up at her brightly.

"When his grandmother is 'on the job,' as Dick says, I remarked, 'I don't believe there's any good dog or child, either, who wouldn't like to change places with Baby.'"

MADGE'S SUDDEN FEAR

"Nonsense!" she said with a sniff, but I have studied her moods and tenses far more closely than I ever did. She was a woman of a softness, I married her son, and I knew that she was secretly pleased. I followed up my advantage with a deferential question.

"May I see him before I go for my tramp?"

"No, he's asleep, bless his baby heart," she said, and my heart suddenly grew tender toward her. The little adoration was one with which I was most familiar. She has used it almost constantly since Junior's birth, and there is a softness, a score of rapture in the words, which makes me realize afresh each time I hear them how much a part of her very life the child has become.

"Well, I wish somebody would bless mine!" Dicky sauntered lazily through the door, and winked at me. "Time to go, mother. My wishes were considered by this family when I was the center of attraction, when my mother and my wife vied with each other in gratifying my every wish. But since that has appeared on the scene what am I in my own house? A mere atom, a speck of dust—hello, Mother! What's the matter?"

His mother was wiping her eyes and sniffing in a fashion terrifying to any one who knew her capacity for self-lashing grief.

"To think," she said brokenly, "that I should live to hear that blessed angel child called a 'brat,' and that his own mother should deserve to have such a child, Richard Graham, and I only pray that nothing will happen to him to make you remember those brutal words."

She rushed out of the room and down the hall to her own. Dicky and I looked at each other aghast.

"Well! What do you know about that?" my husband demanded, when he had recovered his breath. "What on earth is the matter with her?"

"She's simply nervous," I said nothing. "Come, let's get out into those wonderful woods. I feel—little—done-up."

But not to Dicky would I confess that the reason for my sudden faintness was a chilling little premonitory feeling that his mother's words were almost like a curse that might come true.

Women have been denied membership to the Poor Richard Club of Philadelphia by a vote of 12 to 1.

The Truth About Fiction Writing

Chapter XIX.

Your Manuscript

To any professional writer advice on "how to prepare manuscript" seems very old and trite. But it is not every one who knows this detail.

As stated in a previous chapter, manuscript must be typed on one side of the paper, double-spaced. At the top of the first page are your name and address, the number of words in your story, the number of chapters, and the title.

These general directions, however, may cover a multitude of sins. Above all else, do not try to make your manuscript look like a book. It will stamp you as a freak. For some years Allan Hawkwood wrote all his stories on a light brown paper, using a green typewriter ribbon. The reason was perfectly sound. This combination is about the easiest possible on the eyes.

His manuscripts were easy to read. The editors liked them. Nonetheless, so many comments came to Hawkwood about it, so many people considered him a nut, that he came back to white paper and black or blue ribbon.

When you write, set your typewriter to write a certain width on the paper, leaving a margin of an inch on either side—and leave the machine alone! Write all your stories in this same way. You can then count upon a good margin, and, until you determine a fair average number of words per page, your machine writes. After this, you will not have to count words in each story.

A machine having elite or small type will write, on the average, 420 words to the page. This figure, only a small margin, is a machine with large type will write about 350 words. The smaller type is just as acceptable to editors and requires much less postage.

TAKING BUMPS

"Bump, tussle, clutch! Dear me, there must be a new notation on there, should there was—and we were going down the steepest hill in town."

Snatch, catch, hold on! It was funny to see the different ways the women handled the situation. The dignified woman gazed, turned a scarlet, and looked on. The other woman, who could not stand it another minute without speaking, her mouth open, her eyes wide.

The ideal of going down-town and getting into a regular mole! And it was a disgraceful, outrageous! Somebody ought to write to the papers about it.

"Oh, what a school-girl! 'Isn't it too funny?' And she laughed until her head almost fell off."

"Umph!" grunted the fat man, and he grinned sheepishly, for fear some one had heard him grunt.

The two strangers from the East were amazed—they never heard of such a thing—why, it was a regular toboggan slide—they would try to get a postcard picture of it and send it home to their friends.

It made them think of the days of old, the days of gold, didn't it?

IN VARIOUS WAYS

The sardonic man set his lips in a sarcasm. But what would he expect of a car these days. Nothing ever goes right now. Anyhow—a man's a fool to expect it. Wages and rent and the cost of food are eating themselves like Indians on the warpath, old women making up to look like their grand-

SONGS of FRANK L. STANTON

To a Little One.

I know not what the future, dear, may be—
Sown with seeds of roses white for thee;
The present is far away and far away
Life's hills and vales are dim with mystery.
I only feel your necklacing arms, and know
And tenderly I go the way you go;
All that I ever kneel, tis but to pray
That God will shelter all my heart
And love me.

Wood for tennis rackets requires to be kept for five years in the rough timber state before being cut up for use. Wood for pianos is kept, as a rule, for forty years before it is used.

Thirty thousand starving cats are rescued from London streets every year. They are painlessly killed, their skins being used for muffs and gloves.

An aggregate of over 62 years' perfect attendance at school has been compiled by eight members of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Ingersoll, Hook Green, Tunbridge Wells, Eng.

In Alabama, where the percentage of illiteracy was found to be 22.5 in 1910, the percentage was 16.1 last year.

JUST A BOY

Got to understand the lad—
He's not pater to be bad,
If the right he always knew,
He would be as old as you,
Were he now exceeding wise,
He'd be just about your size;
When he does things that annoy,
Don't forget, he's just a boy.

Could he know and understand,
He would need no guiding hand,
But he's young and hasn't learned,
How life's corners must be turned,
Doesn't know from day to day,
There is more in life than play,
More to face than selfish joy,
Don't forget, he's just a boy.

Being just a boy, he'll do
Much you will not want him to;
He'll be careless of his ways,
Have his disobedient days,
Willful, wild and headstrong, too,
Just as when a boy, were you;
Things of value he'll destroy,
But, reflect, he's just a boy.

Just a boy who needs a friend,
Patient, kindly to the end;
Needs a father who will show
Him the things he wants to know,
Take him with you when you walk,
Listen when he wants to talk,
His companionship enjoy,
Don't forget, he's just a boy!

Uncle Wiggily Stories

by HOWARD K. GARDNER

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE YELLOW VIOLETS

One day, when Uncle Wiggily was busy mending his hat, the school bungalow after having been to the five and six cent store for Nurse June to get her new gold and diamond bracelet, the bunny gentleman meekly said to the school teacher, "What do you want of me, Nurse June?"

"What's the matter, Susie?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "Did you lose your lollipop penny?"

"Oh, no, thank you," the little bunny girl answered. "I was just looking for some yellow violets."

"What do you want of yellow violets, Susie?" the school teacher wanted to know. "Is your mother going to cook them?"

"The idea, Uncle Wiggily! Of course not!" laughed Susie. "I want some yellow violets to take to the lady mouse teacher tomorrow. Miss Mouse told us all to look for yellow violets to put with the blue ones Alice Whitehead brought today. Yellow violets are not so easily found as blue ones, and the lady mouse teacher said she wanted to see who of us had the sharpest eyes."

"Well, have you found any yellow violets yet, Susie?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"No," answered the little bunny girl. "I've looked all around on my way home from school, but not a yellow violet have I found. Do you know where they grow, Uncle Wiggily?"

"Yes, I think I do," the bunny gentleman answered. "I must hurry home now, with this gold and diamond bracelet for Nurse June and then I'll look over the woods to a place I know and I'll pick some of the flowers for you."

"Oh, how lovely!" cried Susie, clapping her paws and trying to wiggle her pink nose as Uncle Wiggily did his.

"What a lovely story it is though," Susie said the bunny gentleman, "as you must be honest with the lady mouse teacher and tell her how you got the violets—that is, if I find any."

"Oh, I'll tell her you picked them," quickly promised the little bunny girl.

"Too doo, de, too doo, de," whistled the high school boy. "Gee, some fella—talk about jazz—they sure give you enough of it on the line. Let's see—how did that new step go?"

The woman from the country was embarrassed almost to death—the idea, right before everybody, she should dance the cur, dear, if people wouldn't stare so—that was the last time she'd take a chance on that line. Why, it was mortifying—that's what it was, just mortifying—that's all. Who could help feeling queer about it?

The nursemaid looked indignantly at the motorman. Was he doing it on purpose to humiliate her?

The woman in the black dress and the little, pink, stick-headed woman knew there was a bump. She was sitting in the corner and her thoughts were far away. Her eyes were very sad, much sadder than if they had been filled with tears. Was that luck it is when I wonder?

"Me? Oh, I just thought if I can make some sort of story of this—"

VERY FAR APART

And there we were, all together in the same car, and all as far apart as if there had been miles between us.

It isn't what happens that matters so much after all—is it? It's how you take it when it does happen.

Well, here's the end of the line—and you know that each one's own particular business.

All but the motorman—the conductor seemed to be saying something to him. What was it, I wonder—something cross or something kind?

After all, there is always some kind of a conductor to say some kind of thing when you've made a mistake, isn't there?

What luck it is when the conductor is a human being as well as a conductor.

TAHOE JUSTICE BAR WIPED OUT BY PROHIBITION

The "Cedar Log," for many years Lake Tahoe's "bar of justice," is no more, and the residents of Tahoe City must find another place in which to gather to attend local trials, both in and out of court.

The bar has been removed because prohibition rendered it useless save in cases of court proceedings, and legal actions are too infrequent at Tahoe to warrant keeping it for that purpose only.

The saloon, and its bar, had been the scene of all of the actions over which Justice of the Peace C. W. Nelson presided. Nelson is assistant general manager of the Lake Tahoe railway.

The last trial which was held at the "Cedar Log" created a great deal of local interest, for the parties to the action were women of the lake region and the dispute arose over the killing of a cow. A jury was drawn from the people connected with the resorts, and every session of the three-day trial was witnessed by a crowd of spectators.

Owner of Theaters On European Trip

To study European ideas of picture-house construction and to make arrangements for exclusive rights to some of the great new motion-picture productions now being released by French and German producers, Paul Kehrlein, of the Kinema and Franklin theaters of this city leaves for Europe tomorrow morning. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Kehrlein. Going first to New York where he will stop off for a week, Kehrlein will sail on the new French liner, La France, direct for Paris. Here he will make headquarters for a stay which will probably occupy more than a year in the course of which he plans to tour Germany, France and Italy in the search of new ideas for theater construction that he may apply to the arrangements of the new projected Kinema theater in Oakland.

In addition to searching for new ideas in picture-house construction, Kehrlein will make an intensive study of the work now being done by European motion picture producers.

GIRL SAYS BANKER IS FATHER OF HER MURDERED BABY

Los Angeles Tragedy May Lead To Arrest of Missouri Financier.

LOS ANGELES, May 24.—Lying on a cot in the county hospital, pale and thin from grief and worry, Miss Erie Mullicane, 20, today revealed that the father of her nameless baby, for whose murder she is soon to stand trial, is a wealthy Springfield (Mo.) banker. His name will not be made public until he is arrested on a federal warrant, which has been issued charging violation of the Mann act.

Miss Mullicane, whose parents live in Lebanon, Mo., was arrested several months ago after her baby's body was found in a trunk in a storage warehouse, a lace handkerchief bound tightly around its neck. She is accused of having strangled the infant to death a few days after it was born without the aid of a physician or nurse in the bare attic she had called home since coming to Los Angeles last November. She had steadfastly guarded the name of the man responsible for her trouble.

Mrs. Angela C. Kauffman, wife of a multi-millionaire, who has been active in Miss Mullicane's defense, secured her statement. "He is a banker and insurance man of Springfield, Mo.," the girl is quoted as saying. "His father is a doctor there whom every one respects. He threatened to send me to the insane asylum if I ever mentioned his name. He is influential and wealthy and I believe he could send me there."

Postmistress Held

On Swindle Charge

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 24.—A scheme to defraud mail order houses is revealed in the arrest here of Mrs. Eunice H. Edgar, postmistress of Pennellville, twenty miles north of this city. Mrs. Edgar, thirty years old, is said to have confessed having obtained through her scheme several hundred dollars worth of feminine wearing apparel. Her plan of operation consisted of enclosing, with an order a check with a fictitious signature. Without awaiting the return of the funds on the check the mail order houses shipped the articles ordered, which were received by Mrs. Edgar at different places, sometimes in the postoffice in Syracuse, and again in other nearby cities.

RODMAN'S EYES MOIST WHEN HE LEAVES HIS PAL

LONG BEACH, May 24.—Admiral Rodman's trip East will prevent his dog Duke from accompanying him. For five years Admiral Rodman and Duke have been the closest pals. Through the war years when Admiral Rodman was in European waters Duke was by his side. It will be months before they are re-united, for Duke will have to go East through the Panama canal on the first warship that goes to the East for repairs. The moment of separation from the faithful dog brought tears to the admiral's eyes. The dog howled mournfully as the train started and refused to be comforted.

Final Appeal Made

For Salvation Home

The third week of the financial appeal of the Salvation Army for $30,000 to complete its new rescue and maternity home, now under construction at East Twenty-eighth street and Garden avenue, got under way today.

At headquarters, 312 Henshaw building, it is expected that the remaining several thousands of dollars necessary to complete the quota will be subscribed within a few days.

"Thirty years ago the Salvation Army established its rescue and maternity home in Oakland," said J. Cal Ewing, chairman of the citizens' committee directing the appeal for funds. "For thirty years that rambling dwelling in Russian Heights has been a refuge for girls, mothers many of them—betrayed, homeless, friendless waifs of a cruel social system which ostracizes the girl in trouble. And there have the sheltering and loving arms of the good women of the Salvation Army taken to their hearts these girl-mothers and guided them through the great trial. Afterward they give scrupulous care to the little strangers, and have in time sent the mothers away rejoicing, provided them with positions, and given them a place in life. That is the work of the Salvation Army in Oakland. Is it too much to ask the generous hearts of Oakland and Alameda county to see to it that the $30,000 quota needed to complete the new rescue and maternity home at East Twenty-eighth street and Garden avenue is fully subscribed? Write that check today."

California Leads in Canning Sardines

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23.—California became the leading sardine canning state in the union in 1920, its pack of $7,943,846 putting Maine in second place and starting a brisk race with Portugal for the world's championship, according to figures compiled by the commercial fisheries department of the California Fish and Game Commission.

Six years ago this was an infant industry of doubtful future in California, but today Monterey and San Diego bays, San Pedro, Long Beach and other points near Los Angeles have numerous sardine canneries, with fishing fleets operating offshore and around Santa Catalina Island and the Coronado Islands.

California canners also are responsible for new ideas in packing, it is stated by N. B. Seinfeld, head of the commercial fisheries department of the commission, having introduced the use of tomato and mustard sauce and spices as a variation from the previous universal custom of packing the fish in oil. Experts of the National Canners' Association rate the California olive oil packed sardines above the choicest foreign varieties, according to Seinfeld.

In 1920 the California pack of 1,622,996 cases was valued at $7,913,846. Sardine prices compared with Maine's pack of 1,877,751 cases valued at $2,135,457. The California fishermen caught 118,517,292 pounds of sardines, valued sold to the canneries for $7,716,621, while in Maine 14,720,000 pounds were caught valued at $2,077,941.

Traffic

Progress and Development are measured in terms of population and wealth. TRAFFIC is the visible proof that the people and the dollars exist.

As water seeks its level, so does TRAFFIC seek the shortest avenues of communication between important points. These natural lanes of travel must exist and be constantly usable or progress and development will be impeded. In Northern California where there is an automobile for every seven persons, the automobile is a major factor in progress and development. Facilities for automobile TRAFFIC to move directly and smoothly between important points are vital to the progress and development of Northern California. Certainly the two most important points in Northern California are San Francisco and Oakland, and certainly automobile TRAFFIC between these great centers is entitled to the most direct and efficient means of transportation.

TRAFFIC on the San Francisco side of the Bay finds its way naturally to the Ferry Building and the nearest point on the opposite shore is Oakland Mole.

THE SIX MINUTE FERRY COMPANY

already a successful and profitable public service institution, will connect these two logical landing places and the service will be of the kind that only practical experience, proven policies and modern equipment, constructed for the purpose, can assure.

TRAFFIC will not have to be created for the new line with its three new all-steel automobile transports. The TRAFFIC exists not only in its present form and volume, but in the magnificent potentialities of TRAFFIC properly served. Thousands of motorists on pleasure bent, Northern California residents and visitors, who are now confined by inadequate facilities to one side of the Bay, will explore new territory and enjoy new scenes. The industries of the Bay Cities with great fleets of motor trucks will find another chance to "speed up production" and the East Bay growers will deliver their produce to the San Francisco market.

The present TRAFFIC would no doubt insure the San Francisco-Oakland line of the Six Minute Ferry Company a profit of sorts. The present TRAFFIC and the new TRAFFIC resulting from satisfactory service, combined, will undoubtedly mean handsome profits.

The capital stock of the Six Minute Ferry Company at fifty dollars per share offers the opportunity of a lifetime for investment, presenting as it does the security of a bond and unusual earning abilities. Terms are available to subscribers in what must be the most attractive enterprise ever opened to the California public.

You owe it to yourself to know all about this investment.

or more, we recommend San Diego Consolidated Gas and Electric Company First and Refunding Mortgage 6% Gold Bonds at 87 and interest, to yield 7.30 per cent.

An unusual feature in this bond is the wide difference between the cost price and the redemption price—a range of 18 points for five years, decreasing one point each three years thereafter. If, as facts seem to indicate, the tendency of bond prices for the coming years is upward, your prospects for appreciation are very favorable in this bond.

The security back of the bond is more than adequate and the record of earnings assures prompt payment of interest.

APPEAL FOR NEW HIGH SCHOOL IS HEARD BY BOARD

Lack of Funds Hamper:
Smith Tract May Be Condemned.

At the end of a long oratorical session concerning the advisability of condemning the Smith tract, located at the upper Excelsior avenue and Park boulevard, alongside the Home club house, the board of education finally adopted a resolution to condemn the property for a junior high school, but not to take action within two weeks.

In the two weeks the owner of the property will confer with the bond expenditure and building program committee of the board of education, as will representatives of the McClesney, Lakeview, Glenview, Home and other clubs interested, who were asked to formulate some plan for the erection of high schools in the lake or upper hill districts.

Representatives of the various clubs failed utterly to agree last night. The Home club, represented by Mrs. Charles Waterhouse, president-elect, protested against a school being placed in this strictly residential district.

ONE FOR CHILDREN.

The Lakeview district, represented mainly by Roscoe Jones, pleaded that the children coming from the districts north of the lake have no alternative of riding on their own cross-town street car lines to the present high schools, with no relief in sight. If the new proposed junior high school is placed on top of the Excelsior avenue hill, he said, the children will either have to climb the long and dangerous hill, or take a roundabout street car system.

Jones asserted that the Lakeview district has been abandoned by the board of education.

The McClesney residents at the top of the hill, represented by J. P. Murray, represented that the board of education has given them scant attention in the existing rush and unless the Smith tract is bought they may be deserted for a long time to come.

Murray pleaded against any Lakeview school, which would mean, he said, that the children of the Park boulevard children would have to climb down a long and dangerous hill.

If the board of education has not enough money to buy this tract, said Murray, "we will put up the money."

"The McClesney people," charged Jones, "can go to a high school within a mile of their homes on East Nineteenth street. Are you going to put all the high and junior high schools up in that locality?"

This is a dilemma," remarked Superintendent Fred Hunter.

After some discussion, F. M. Smith, owner of the tract, was asked if he would hold off improvements until the board of education considered the matter further. Smith said he wanted to build, but was willing to take two weeks.

Smith was accused by Director Daly Short of having rushed into improvements when he heard that the board of education wanted the property. He denied it.

"I feel a responsibility in this," said Mrs. Short. "As chairman of the bond expenditure committee, I realize that McClesney should have a school and Lakeview should have one. Both sides are right. It is a question of funds."

A resolution to accept Murray's offer of two weeks' stay was lost. A resolution to force the condemnation proceedings was lost.

"We have got nowhere after all this discussion," said Mr. Short.

It was then suggested that the heads of the various clubs confer. Murray asserted that McClesney had repeatedly invited the others, who had ignored it. After a lengthy and somewhat turbulent discussion, the motion to proceed with condemnation and then halt action, was finally adopted, while the members of the various clubs were asked to take part in further discussions.

Youths All Expect Nautical Degree of A. B. as Result of Trip Across Pacific

Eighteen University of California students, who have just completed their first year, yesterday solved the problem of "how to receive the award of an A. B." without completing the necessary four-year course when the Shipping Board steamer Creole State sailed for Singapore, Calcutta and Manila.

Manned by a new crew, including the boys wearing the blue and gold cap.

Determined to send the steamer on her voyage, the Pacific Mail proceeded to round up all of the available men. The term had just closed at the university, and when the students were given the chance to ship on a cruise that would consume three months, they waited upon Assistant General Manager Paulton Mann with the request:

"Show us where to sign and let's go." For more than an hour before the sailing of the vessel the pier was thronged with girls.

Then just as all was going smoothly, Captain Jacob Miller, commander of the Creole State, appeared and called out:

"Boys, have you all got your A. B. certificates?"

"For the love of Mike!" exclaimed one of the students, "how can you expect us to have the papers of an A. B. when we are only freshmen?"

"I mean have you got your able seamen papers straightened out," answered the skipper.

L. J. La Rue and his daughter, Miss Louise La Rue, were on the wharf to bid a son and brother goodbye.

WOODEN BUILDING FOR BAY DISTRICT SCHOOL FAVORED

Board Decides On Program,
Despite Protest From Director Campbell.

The Board of Education last night put the official question on the much-discussed Bay school plan by adopting a resolution "that the former action of the board approving plans for the Bay school, involving the erection of a wooden building of which the present Bay school building will form a part, be carried out by the construction department."

Director Fred Campbell fought the resolution.

"The people of Bay do not want it," he said. "It is a crime to force down these people's throats what they do not want. I ask that this matter be postponed."

A resident of the Bay district asserted that there are 1000 signatures to a petition against it. The motion of the building program committee, however, was adopted.

"Does this finally close the question?" asked a Bay resident.

"Never," said Campbell. "It does," ruled Chairman Floyd Gray and Business Manager Parzee. "That is the vote of the board."

The board also adopted a resolution that the Board of Supervisors be asked to advertise and sell $400,000 of high school district bonds and $700,000 of school district bonds.

The money of the bonds can be sold, will stimulate the building program.

The board authorized the construction department to sell at public auction an old house at 1077 Sixty-third street, which is not in a rentable condition.

Bids for the construction of Fremont shops and Lazarus auditorium were opened and referred to the district attorney.

Oakland Club To Be Guests At Exposition

SAN JOSE, May 24.—A large delegation from the newly organized Oakland 100 Per Cent club will attend the San Jose club's industrial exposition, together with representatives from the San Francisco club and members of the B-B campaign committee, arriving in this city Saturday morning for the week-end.

The idea of spending the week-end in San Jose and at the exposition has evidently gained considerable vogue around the bay cities, as local hotel men have received scores of calls for reservations in the past few days.

More automobiles are needed to accommodate the G. A. R. veterans, who will ride from the city hall in Oakland to Fortieth and Piedmont avenue, and from there will head the procession to Mountain View cemetery.

Anyone who will volunteer the use of an automobile for the occasion is requested to notify Bernard Marvin at the headquarters in Oakland Post, No. 5, of the American Legion, telephone Oakland 7211.

Flowers to be distributed over the graves are also needed. Anyone who can give flowers is requested to leave them at the memorial hall at the Oakland city hall not later than 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

On Sunday there will be Memorial day services in all of the churches, with services in the evening. No program of ceremonies will be held on Sunday outside of the churches.

SOLEMNITY OF DAY.

The American Legion has issued a request to all organizations asking that they refrain from staging baseball games or other form of sports on Memorial day. The request is that the day be observed with solemn ceremonies and that there be no joy-making.

Major Harry F. Huber has been chosen grand marshal of the day's exercises. The members of the general committee are: W. J. Camman, Treasurer; Camp, United Spanish War Veterans (chairman); Dr. L. E. O'ford, E. P. Gallagher, both of Livermore; Camp, Frank Jessup and V. J. Hutchinson of the Veterans of Foreign Wars; Harry Nelson, J. J. Messenger and Bernard Marvin of Oakland Post, No. 5, American Legion; Donald McClure, William McCoy and Webb Vassar of Argonne Post, American Legion, and Caspar Mayor of Joseph H. McCourt Camp, U. S. W. V., of Berkeley.

WILL ESCORT G. A. R.

The ex-service men are requested to meet at Fortieth and Piedmont avenue at 9:30 o'clock on Monday morning, May 30. At 10 o'clock, led by a marine band from Coast Island, the marchers will escort 200 of the 300 G. A. R. members in the Eastbay district to the G. A. R. plot in the cemetery, where services will be held at 11 o'clock. The procession will first march to the United Spanish War Veterans' plot, where services will take place at 10:30 o'clock, and from which place the G. A. R. veterans will be escorted to their plot.

Prominent speakers, including the heads of various patriotic organizations, will take part in the ceremonies.

The American Legion will complete its services with the United Spanish War Veterans, as will the Foreign War Veterans. At noon the graves will be decorated by the Women War Workers, the women's auxiliaries of the various ex-service men's organizations and relatives and friends of the dead soldiers. This ceremony will be followed by the sounding of taps and the firing of a salute over each soldier plot and each individual soldier's grave outside the plots.

AUTOS ARE NEEDED.

Flowers to be distributed over the graves are also needed. Anyone who can give flowers is requested to leave them at the memorial hall at the Oakland city hall not later than 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

On Sunday there will be Memorial day services in all of the churches, with services in the evening. No program of ceremonies will be held on Sunday outside of the churches.

SOLEMNITY OF DAY.

Veterans of Three Wars to Pay Honor to Hero Dead

Several thousand former service men will march in uniform on Memorial day, May 30, when the 200 G. A. R. veterans are escorted from Fortieth and Piedmont avenue to their plot in Mountain View cemetery, according to W. J. Camman, chairman of the Memorial day committee, who has received the assistance from many ex-service men's organizations that the men will appear in uniform.

The most important detail in preparation of the day is the gathering of the names of soldier dead buried outside the soldier plots in Mountain View cemetery, so that the individual graves may be decorated with flowers.

Bernard Marvin of Oakland Post, No. 5, of the American Legion, is in charge of the work and requests that anyone having a relative or friend buried outside the plots communicate with him at once, giving the location of the grave and the name of the dead soldier.

Flowers to be distributed over the graves are also needed. Anyone who can give flowers is requested to leave them at the memorial hall at the Oakland city hall not later than 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

On Sunday there will be Memorial day services in all of the churches, with services in the evening. No program of ceremonies will be held on Sunday outside of the churches.

SOLEMNITY OF DAY.

The American Legion has issued a request to all organizations asking that they refrain from staging baseball games or other form of sports on Memorial day. The request is that the day be observed with solemn ceremonies and that there be no joy-making.

Major Harry F. Huber has been chosen grand marshal of the day's exercises. The members of the general committee are: W. J. Camman, Treasurer; Camp, United Spanish War Veterans (chairman); Dr. L. E. O'ford, E. P. Gallagher, both of Livermore; Camp, Frank Jessup and V. J. Hutchinson of the Veterans of Foreign Wars; Harry Nelson, J. J. Messenger and Bernard Marvin of Oakland Post, No. 5, American Legion; Donald McClure, William McCoy and Webb Vassar of Argonne Post, American Legion, and Caspar Mayor of Joseph H. McCourt Camp, U. S. At 10 o'clock, led by a marine band from Coast Island, the marchers will escort 200 of the 300 G. A. R. members in the Eastbay district to the G. A. R. plot in the cemetery, where services will be held at 11 o'clock. ## OUSTED OFFICER TO BARE CHARGES AT BOARD HEARING

Clash Expected At Inquiry
Into Dismissal of Patrolman Hart From Force.

A lively contest is expected tonight in the civil service board when the continued case of Patrolman L. E. Hart is heard, with witnesses brought by Hart and by the chief of police.

Hart was dismissed for alleged insubordination by Chief of Police Thompson, and the dismissal was upheld by Commissioner Morse. Hart was accused of failing to show respect for his superior officers and of conduct unbecoming a police officer.

He appealed to the civil service board.

Hart alleges that he has been "railroaded" from his job because he got into the bad graces of the higher officials through his performance of duty in raising gambling or unlawful places. The case has caused bitterness to be expressed among the officials.

Students Raise $1000 For Swimming Pool

BERKELEY, May 24.—More than $1000 has been raised thus far by students at Berkeley high school for a swimming pool for the new school building.

The campaign to raise $40,000 will continue throughout the week under the direction of Miss Marjorie Bond, chairman of the student committee. Student teams under captains are canvassing the entire city, securing pledges which will be redeemed when the entire amount is raised.

Owing to the lack of funds, with which to erect a pool, the campaign has been undertaken by the students. The pool will be made a community affair, according to plans of the school heads, and will be thrown open to the public when not used for school activities.

STUDENTS' SHIRTS STOLEN.

A big bag of laundry left on the front porch of the new chapter house, 232 Piedmont avenue, was stolen yesterday, according to a report made to the police by members of the fraternity.
